

What if...

you could help your kid's tummy ache in minutes or mend a 'boo boo' and never have to worry about if it's safe or not??

What if...

you didn't have to worry about calling poison control if your kids get into your "things"?

What if...

there were products that WORK and are completely safe, plant-based, fast-acting and effective?

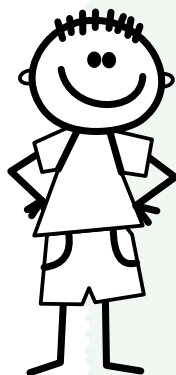

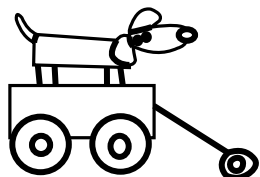

It's time to eliminate those feelings of worry and helplessness and replace them with confidence and empowerment with these amazing products for your kiddos!

Say "Hello" to KidScents!

According to a research article from Health Affairs, there are four main differences that contribute to a child's heightened susceptibility to chemical exposure:

1. Children have greater exposure to toxic chemicals for their body weight than adults.
2. Children's metabolic pathways are immature and a child's ability to metabolize toxic chemicals is different from an adult's.
3. Children's early developmental processes are easily disrupted.
4. Children have more time than adults to develop chronic diseases.
